ALLEN WOULD WAIT BEFORE FIGHTING

NEBRASKA SENATOR DEPRECATES WAR TALK.

He Thinks We Should Wait for the Report of the Venezuelan Commission—Bond Bids All Classified—Lively Controversy in the House Over Talbert's Speech.

Washington, Feb. 8.—Senator Allen addressed the senate Friday on the Monroe doctrine resolution. He contended that the Monroe doctrine was simply one of national self-preservation, and said that if the invasion of the South American republics by Great Britain should endanger the welfare or menace the safety of this government in any way we should apply this doctrine and resent her action with all the strength and resources of a mighty nation. We must be the exclusive judges of when the doctrine is to be applied. We cannot, he maintained, permit Great Britain or any other foreign power to determine when and to what extent the acquisition of territory on the Western hemisphere will imperil our government. He thought, however, that it would be ample time to act when the Venezuelan commission shall have reported.

The Hansbrough seed resolution was then taken up. Mr. Blanchard (Dem., La.) spoke in support of the resolution, criticising the secretary of agriculture for not distributing seeds. The senator declared that the secretary had adopted a pretext to defeat a law and had virtually "taken by the throat" an enactment of congress. It was not the first act of this kind, as the enactment directing the payment of sugar bounties had been nullified by Comptroller Bowles. The senator expressed the hope that congress, in vindication of its rights and powers, would compel them to have regard for the law.

At 2:15 the resolution contemplating a reform in handling appropriation bills by distributing them among the several committees was taken up, and Mr. Allison, chairman of the appropriations committee, moved to refer the resolution to the committee on rules, to be reported back without amendment the first Monday of next December. There was much confusion in the chamber with conflicting motions and efforts at an agreement on the pending resolution. Finally the motion of Mr. Allison was adopted, 40 to 28. The result was accepted as a direct victory for the appropriations committee.

HOUSE MEMBERS EXCITED.

Lively Controversy Over the Speech of Mr. Talbert of South Carolina.

Washington, Feb. 8.—The house on Friday suddenly became involved in a bitter controversy. It sprang from remarks made by Mr. Talbert (dem.), of South Carolina, in defense of secession, which Mr. Barrett (rep.), of Massachusetts, interpreted as treasonable. He had the speaker's words taken down and offered a resolution of censure. After a wrangle and some explanations Mr. Dalzell, of Pennsylvania, moved to refer the Barrett resolution to the committee on judiciary. This was carried by a vote of 154 to 41. This is understood to mean that no notice will be taken of the matter.

The debate on the free silver substitute for the bond bill then proceeded. The house met at 10:30 o'clock, with less than thirty members present and only a few stragglers in the galleries. Mr. Newlands (silverite, Nev.) awoke the empty echoes of the vast hall with a vigorous argument in favor of the free and independent coinage of silver. He asserted that not a single debtor nation in the world had maintained the gold standard except the United States, and we had done so at the price of continued bond issues. Mr. Hartmann (rep., Mont.) and Mr. Kem (pop., Neb.) followed in favor of concurrence and Mr. Tucker (dem., Va.) in favor of non-concurrence.

The president's message transmitting to the house the report of the Nicaragua canal commission in response to the house resolution was laid before the house.

The night session for the consideration of private pension bills was dispensed with in order that the bond bill debate might proceed to-night. An arrangement was effected for closing general debate on the bill at the close of the legislative day on Monday, and the house in committee of the whole resumed the consideration of the bond bill.

Mr. Patterson (dem., Tenn.) spoke in favor of non-concurrence and deplored the fact that a great economic problem had become the football of politics. The issue was not, he said, whether the United States should adopt a bi-metallic standard. If that were the question bimetallism would receive the unanimous approval of the house. It was a question of our power to establish the free coinage of silver at 16 to 1 and retain the ability to maintain silver so minted in circulation concurrently with gold and redeemable in gold. Mr. Williams (dem., Miss.) followed Mr. Patterson in favor of free silver. Mr. Broderick (rep., Kas.) and Mr. Bowers (rep., Cal.) closed the debate for the afternoon.

Just before the recess was taken Mr. Pearson (rep., N. C.) whose original colloquy with Mr. Talbert had caused the latter to rise to a question of personal privilege, made a humorous speech in closing and referred to the time-honored remark of the governor of North Carolina to the governor of South Carolina, which he said was now in order. The house then took a recess until 7:30 p. m.

The attendance was small and there were no incidents worthy of mention. The speakers were: McClure (rep., O.) and Mondell (rep., Wyo.) in favor of concurrence in the free-coinage substitute, and Gibson (rep., Tenn.) and Bromwell (rep., O.), Sparkman (dem., Fla.), Eddy (rep., Minn.) and Stewart (rep., N. J.) against.

At 10 o'clock the house adjourned until this morning.

HOUSE RECEIVES CANAL REPORT.

Extensive Data on the Nicaragua Project Are Furnished.

Washington, Feb. 8.—President Cleveland on Friday sent to the house the report of the commissioners appointed under act of congress to make an investigation of the route of the proposed Nicaragua canal. The report contains elaborate data respecting the work already done by the company, the physical characteristics of the country, the dangers to be met, the weak points to be overcome, and various other detailed statistical information. The report treats the canal question under three divisions, viz.: The eastern, Greytown harbor; the lake and river division, from Ochoa to the west side of Lake Nicaragua; and the western division, from Lake Nicaragua to the Pacific ocean. The commission presents the following comparative recapitulation of estimates of cost for the whole canal: Company's estimate, 1895, old basin line, $66,466,880; company's estimate, 1895, low level line, $69,893,650; board's estimate, 1895, low level line, $133,472,893.

The climate of Nicaragua is said to be mild, equable, and humid, and the value of labor is cheap; but the opening of earth excavations may be expected to develop malarial diseases. The volcanic and seismic forces are declining, and will not imperil the stability of the canal. For obtaining the necessary data for a final project eighteen months' time, covering two dry seasons, and an expenditure of $350,000 will be required.

The Prize-Fight Bill Signed.

Washington, Feb. 8.—The Catron bill to prevent prize fighting in the District of Columbia and territories was signed by the president Friday and became a law. The bill did not reach the white house until 4 o'clock or afterward, and in its case the usual routine was departed from and the measure taken at once to Mr. Cleveland, who, after examining its provisions, promptly attached his signature, so that from the date of signature prize fighting is a felony on soil over which the federal government has exclusive jurisdiction. Prompt measures will be taken to see that it is not violated.

Figures on the Bond Bids.

Washington, Feb. 8.—The treasury has completed its tabulation of the bids for bonds above the Morgan syndicate bid. The result is 781 bids for a total of $66,788,650. This leaves the amount which will be awarded to the Morgan syndicate $34,211,350. The treasury rejected a few bids for the reason that they bore evidence of being fictitious, so that the amounts stated are the correct figures.

NO DEFENSE FOR KELLERS.

Clara Shanks' Alleged Slayers Will Not Be Put on the Stand.

Terre Haute, Ind., Feb. 8.—Friday, the eleventh day of the Keller-Shanks murder trial, was the most sensational of all and closed with the surprising statement by the defense that it would offer no evidence and was willing to submit the case to the jury without argument. When the state announced that it rested Mr. Lamb said the defense would submit the case as it stood and without argument, but the state said it would insist on its right to make argument. All the witnesses were then excused and adjournment taken until to-day, when Mr. Puett will speak. If the defense makes no argument in reply the case will go to the jury by evening.

The action of the defense is puzzling. In his opening statement Mr. Lamb promised to put the defendants on the stand. If the announced program is to be carried out there is to be no refutation of the statement of the witness Friday that Mrs. Nannie Keller made the statement about the missing shirt or of George Thomas' statement about the Black murder, or of Wilder's testimony that he saw three women at the Keller house about the time Clara Shanks is supposed to have gone there.

Verdict in Royster's Favor.

Boone, Iowa, Feb. 8.—Last month Stanhope Royster shot and killed Banker McFarland for betraying his daughter. A week later the girl killed herself in Omaha, Neb. Friday Royster was acquitted of the murder after a week's trial. The jury was out but five minutes, when it rendered a verdict for acquittal. When the verdict was announced a scene of the wildest enthusiasm and confusion followed. Men and women rose to their feet and cheered at the tops of their voices. Hats were thrown into the air and handkerchiefs waved on every hand.

Michigan State Farmers' Institute.

South Haven, Mich., Feb. 8.—The state farmers' institute closed its five days' session here Friday with addresses by President Roland Morrill of the Michigan Horticultural Society and Professor L. R. Taft of the State Agricultural College.

ACCUSE EACH OTHER OF KILLING PEARL

MURDERERS MAKE CONFLICTING STATEMENTS.

Scott Jackson and Alonzo Walling, the Slayers of Pearl Bryan, Spend Friday in the Attempt to Fix the Guilt on Each Other—Excitment is Growing.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Feb. 8.—Although it is just one week since the decapitated body of Pearl Bryan was found near Fort Thomas, Ky., there was more excitement Friday over the tragedy here and in the Kentucky suburbs than on any previous day.

Scott Jackson and Alonzo Walling, the suspects, who were room-mates while attending the Ohio Dental college, were confessing against each other all day. They were examined separately and together. When they are confronted face to face with each other's confessions they call each other liars and exhibit murderous feeling toward each other.

All efforts have been directed to finding Pearl Bryan's head. Jackson says Walington carried it in a valise to the Covington suspension bridge and threw it into the river, or he might have carried it to his home at Hamilton and thrown it from the Miami bridge. Walling says he had nothing to do with the decapitation or disposal of the head. He led the officers to believe Jackson had buried it in a sandbar opposite Dayton, Ky., or dropped it in the sewer on Richmond street.

Large forces worked all day at both places and they secured the blood-stained coat of Jackson out of a sewer at the corner of Richmond street and Central avenue, near Jackson's room.

William Wood of Greencastle, Ind., as well as Jackson and Walling, were arraigned in police court and their preliminary hearings were fixed for next Thursday, Feb. 13. Wood was admitted to $5,000 bail. The two other suspects were refused bail.

Sheriff Plummer of Newport, Ky., demanded them as his prisoners. As the Campbell county jail is an old frame structure this caused the two suspects to turn pale as death. They fear lynching. The object of the present inquisition is to determine whether the murder was committed in Ohio or Kentucky. Sheriff Plummer's constant demand for the prisoners has had much to do with the profusion of confessions.

The friends of both Jackson and Walling have employed counsel. Edward Black, an undertaker at Greencastle, Ind., was sent by the parents to bring home the body. As there has been no inquest yet Coroner Longley, at Newport, would not give up the body.

A post-mortem was held at which the physicians decided that the head of Pearl Bryan had been cut off while she was alive. They could find no traces of drugs. The lawyers are anxious for positive evidence on this point in order to establish beyond doubt the charge of murder.

Scott Jackson Friday night sent for Secretary Tibbitts of the Y. M. C. A. Later Tibbitts wrote this confession as it was dictated by Jackson, and the latter signed it:

"Here, with the Bible in my hand, on my knees, before God, I swear I was not guilty of murdering that poor girl. I did get her to come to Cincinnati to undergo an operation. Walling was to get $50 for performing it. I was guilty of getting him to do it, but not of murdering that poor girl.

"I don't know where he killed her or how he killed her, or what he did with her after he killed her. I did not kill the poor girl. He is the guilty man. Will Woods was to send $50 to him through me for performing the operation. This is the truth, so help me God."

The confession was made by Jackson in the presence of no one but Secretary Tibbitts. It was then delivered to the mayor and chief of police.

BENJAMIN RATCLIFFE HANGED.

Man Who Killed a School Board Executed at Canon City, Col.

Canon City, Colo., Feb. 8.—Benjamin Ratcliffe, the slayer of the entire school board of Jefferson district, Park county, was hanged at the penitentiary Thursday night at 8:05 o'clock. The crime for which Ratcliffe suffered death was one of the most startling in the history of Colorado. He deliberately shot down in the schoolhouse at Jefferson, Park county, the three members of the school board—Samuel Taylor, Lincoln F. McCurdy and George D. Wyatt. The cause of the trouble was the circulation of reports of alleged criminal intimacy between Ratcliffe and his motherless daughter, a girl of 18. These stories Ratcliffe attributed to McCurdy.

Craithie's Owners Appeal.

Amsterdam, Feb. 8.—The owners of the British steamer Craithie have appealed against the judgment of the court at Rotterdam, which found that steamer to blame for the sinking by collision in January last of the North German Lloyd steamship Elbe.

Prison for Trying to Kill His Mother.

Logansport, Ind., Feb. 8.—James W. McDowell, convicted of assault and battery with intent to kill his mother, Margaret McDowell, was sentenced in accordance with the verdict of the jury to five years in the penitentiary.

THE TRADE REVIEW IS MORE HOPEFUL

SUCCESS OF POPULAR LOAN CHANGES CONDITIONS.

Foreign Investors are Now Likely to Seek American Securities—Signs of Improvement in the Iron Market—Increase in the Week's Failures Compared With 1895.

New York, Feb. 8.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade says:

"The wonderful success of the popular loan alters the face of events. The influence of this event upon all manufacturing and all trade cannot be lightly estimated. It puts the treasury on a safe basis for the time, whether congress does anything useful or not. It notifies foreign nations that the United States has power as well as purpose. It unlocks millions of gold which have been gathered in preparation, brings directly several millions of gold from Europe, and stimulates the anxiety of foreign investors to obtain American securities. With such a revolution in business suddenly effected the customary records of last week and month are of less value than usual.

"There have been signs of improvement in the iron manufacture, although the average of prices is nearly 1 per cent lower this week, for orders have been booked for nearly 300,000 tons of rails this year, against total deliveries in 1895 of 1,000,000 tons, and orders for wire nails are stimulated by a decision to advance the price again March 1. There is also a more active demand for plates and sheets. Southern competition lowers coke iron at Chicago and prevents advance at the East, while sales of last year's speculators in the Pittsburg region still depress Bessemer. The ore pool is expected to fix the price for the year at $4 or possibly at $4.50, and the coke pool still reduces the output. Speculation has raised copper to 10¼ cents, with sales of 6,000,000 pounds, and tin to 13½ cents, and lead to 3.10 cents, with large exports of Mexican.

"Sales of wool have been 4,566,200 pounds, against 5,192,150 pounds last year, and 6,656,715 pounds in 1893, and with reported reduction in clay worsteds and mixtures, the orders for other woolen goods are still unusually delayed. It is also stated that cancellations in carpets have been unusually numerous since January last.

"The cotton mills continue generally active. Though talk of decreasing production still continues, print-cloths do not rise above 2¼c, and some goods tend lower.

"Speculation in wheat has again lifted prices, although Western receipts have been 2,800,907 bushels for the week, against 792,971 bushels last year, and for the year thus far 15,067,695 bushels, against 6,039,933 bushels last year. Atlantic exports have been increasing, though not in the same proportion, amounting for the week, flour included, to 1,965,956 bushels, against 1,458,255 bushels last year. The speculative market has been largely influenced by rumors of injury to the coming crop and by foreign advices, and prices advanced 3¼ cents for cash and 2⅜ cents for May. Corn has been comparatively steady. Cotton is practically unchanged, receipts continuing to accord with a yield of about 7,000,000 bales in 1895.

"Failures for the last week have been 323 in the United States, against 281 last year, and 63 in Canada, against 58 last year."

W. H. ENGLISH IS DEAD.

Prominent Indiana Politician Passes Away at the Age of Seventy-Four.

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 8.—William H. English, who for more than a half-century has been prominently identified with the commercial and political life of Indiana, died Friday at the age of 74. He is best remembered as the democratic candidate for vice-president on the ticket with Gen. Hancock in 1880. He was at the time of his death probably the wealthiest man in Indiana, his possessions being estimated at $1,750,000. The funeral will be held Sunday afternoon. The body will be buried in Crown Hill cemetery at the foot of a beautiful family monument which Mr. English erected several years ago.

Balfour on Currency Reform.

London, Feb. 8.—Replying to a deputation representing agricultural interests the first lord of the treasury, Mr. A. J. Balfour, informed his visitors that the government was preparing various measures for the relief of the agricultural classes. Mr. Balfour also stated that it was his personal conviction that agriculture suffered doubly owing to the present condition of the currency, and expressed his personal belief that the reduced prices were largely due to the artificial appreciation of gold which followed the demonetization of silver, and, secondly, to the artificial advantage given the producer in silver-using countries over the producer in gold-using countries.

Meeting of the Venezuelan Commission

Washington, Feb. 8.—The Venezuelan boundary commission met Friday and considered several maps, of which Justin Windsor, librarian of Harvard college, who is a geographer, explained the details. He also spoke on various other points. A meeting will be held next Friday.

BOY MURDERER AND SUICIDE.

Thirteen-Year-Old Joseph Merrifield Kills His Brother and Himself.

Hedrick, Iowa, Feb. 8.—A frightful and perhaps unparalleled tragedy occurred here Friday morning. Joseph Merrifield, the 13-year-old son of Frank Merrifield, shot his 8-year-old brother with a rifle and then killed himself, blowing the entire top of his head off.

Merrifield's three sons—Joseph, aged 13; Charles, aged 11, and Hugh, aged 8—quarreled about the talking of the two younger brothers while Joe wished to sleep. Joe declared he would shoot them if they didn't quit, and accordingly got a rifle and leveled it at the head of Charles. They fought and Charles got out of the room. Joseph then turned the rifle on the smaller brother, Hugh, and fired, the ball taking effect in the left cheek and passing out through the back of the head. Joseph then deliberately placed the muzzle of the rifle between his eyes and touched the trigger with is foot, blowing his brains and the top of his head completely off.

The father had left the house early in the morning and after his departure the quarrel commenced. Neighbors were informed of the tragedy, and when they entered the house a sickening scene was presented. The two boys lay dead on the floor, surrounded by filth and squalor. The father had neglected his children until they were almost starved.

SEVEN HELD FOR MURDER.

Martha Maovitik Seems to Be Mainly Responsible for the Whiting Riot.

Whiting, Ind., Feb. 8.—Seven persons held for the murders Thursday are in the Lake county jal. Martha Maovitik was absolutely identified by John Thomas as the one who fired the first shot. Martha is the Crotian virago who seems to be more responsible for the riot than any other person. Yesterday in her cell she talked freely to Prosecuting Attorney Gavit, and gave important evidence against a number of her countrymen. The post-mortem on the bodies of Szanya and Matji established beyond doubt that they were shot from the downstairs window of the Maovitik saloon. The coroner's inquest was held by Justice Crawford of Hammond, but he failed to discover the identity of the actual murderer.

It was established that the attack of the Slavonians was premeditated, none of the Hungarians being prepared for it or making any defense. The public feeling against Maovitik is abating, as he seems to be a mild-mannered man and entirely under the control of his wife. She expressed contempt for him at the jail, saying he was too easy with his enemies.

Women May Vote at Ohio Elections.

Columbus, Ohio, Feb. 8.—The supreme court has decided a case involving the constitutionality of the law giving women the right to vote for school directors and members of city boards of education, and to become members of such bodies. The case had been decided in the circuit court, the law being held valid. In the supreme court the judges divided even, three being in favor of affirmation and three against. Under the laws of Ohio this affirms the decision of the lower court, and the women will be permitted to enjoy the right of suffrage in the election of school officers.

Iowa Soldiers' Monument Muddle.

Des Moines, Iowa, Feb. 8.—The military committees of the house and senate held a joint meeting Friday afternoon to hear the members of the Iowa soldiers' momument commission defend the monument plans. The house refused to concur in the senate resolution for the appointment of a special committee to consider the problems in connection with the monument and it is probable that the matter will be left in the hands of the military committee of the two houses.

Wants More Cruisers.

Berlin, Feb. 8.—Before the budget committee Friday Baron Marschall von Bieberstein, the minister for foreign affairs, stated that the question of a considerable addition to the German navy had for a long time been under consideration, and that when the deliberations were concluded the result would be communicated to the reichstag. He added that the need of additional cruisers had long been felt and that the number of cruisers belonging to foreign countries had been considerably increased during 1895.

To Nominate Miss Clara Barton.

London, Feb. 8.—The Chronicle says it hears that Mr. Terrell, United States minister at Constantinople, has arranged to nominate Miss Clara Barton, president of the American Red Cross Society, and her colleagues to distribute the relief fund in her possession to the Armenians in accordance with the sultan's agreement, which, however, precludes any Armenians or newspaper correspondents from the nomination.

Damage at New Milford, Conn.

New Milford, Conn., Feb. 8.—Damage to the extent of $5,000 was caused by the storm which raged the greater part of Friday. A stream known as Butler brook became a torrent, and carried away a culvert located near the factory of the New Milford Hat Company, and undermined the dye shop connected with the factory. Traffic by railroad was suspended till almost noon.

Russia Appoints a Military Agent.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 8.—The Russian government has appointed Colonel Strebitsky to the post of military agent at Seoul.

TWO YEAR SENTENCE FOR EDITOR DUNLOP

HIS FILTHY PERSONAL COLUMN SURPRESSED.

Two Years Imprisonment and a $5,000 Fine the Punishment for Persistently Defying Decent Public Sentiment—Federal Court Finding Received With Approval in Chicago.

Chicago, Feb. 8.—Joseph R. Dunlop was sentenced to two years' imprisonment and a $5,000 fine today in the federal court. His paper, the Dispatch, had been publishing regularly a "personal" column in which the vilest resorts of the city were advertised. He was arrested for sending such matter through the mails. Public sentiment endorses the finding of the court.

POLYGON CLUB SCORES A HIT

High School Reception Last Night Was a Success in Every Way

The Armory hasn't looked prettier this season than it did last evening when high school pupils took possession. The leap year reception given by the Polygon club was a notable affair. It was notable for the good spirits that prevailed and notable for the bright responses and clever speeches.

Miss Marcia Jackman was toastmaster and she first called upon Miss Carrie Zeininger and President T. W. Goldin who spoke in behalf of the guests. The toasts that followed were:

"The Freshmen," Imogene McDonald.

"The Coming Contest," a poem by Miss Louise Pullen, read by Miss Alma Golling.

"Manual Training," Miss Mabel Harper.

"The Vedette," Miss Georgia Withington.

Nearly a hundred couples joined in the informal dance that followed, the young ladies doing the honors with easy grace. The floor was in charge of Misses Helen Nash, Helen Prichard, Alice Shearer, Marcia Jackman, Kittie Smith and Edith Hayward, who won warm praise for their executive ability. For those who did not wish to dance card tables were provided. Pineapple frappe and wafers were served by Shurtleff during the evening.

COUNTY CONVENTION MARCH 13.

Chairman W. T. Vankirk Announces a Change of Date.—Next Month Will Do.

There was a division of opinion as to the proper date for the Rock county republican convention. Many understood the state central committee to demand twenty-four days time between county conventions and the state convention. If this were to be done, February 18th was the latest date at which the convention could be held. A careful reading of the state call, however, shows that the requirement is for merely twenty-four days notice of the convention. Chairman Vankirk has altered the date of the convention, therefore to Friday, March 13.

SIX BODIES FOUND.

Number Killed in Bristol Bridge Disaster Remains Uncertain.

Bristol, Conn., Feb. 8.—Thousands visited the scene of Thursday night's disaster at the New England Railroad bridge over the Pequabuck river. Six bodies have thus far been recovered, and still a number of men are missing. It will probably be two or three days before it is known how many went down with the ill-fated bridge. The list of dead so far is:

O'BRIEN, DANIEL J., section foreman, Hartford.

CURRY, MARTIN, section hand, New Britain.

RICCI, NICOLO, Italian laborer, East Hartford.

MACK, JAMES, laborer, New Britain.

M'CARTHY, PATRICK, laborer, New Britain.

CASTELANI, CHARLES, laborer, Hartford.

Foreman William F. Barry, who was rescued from a mass of timber and wreckage, is internally injured and is conscious only part of the time. The other three men injured are doing well.

Waters Are Receding.

Philadelphia, Pa., Feb. 8.—Both the Delaware and Schuylkill rivers, which on Thursday were raging torrents, have nearly resumed their normal condition. The loss to commission merchants on Delaware avenue will amount to $50,000, while many mill-owners' losses will nearly equal this amount. Trains are running on schedule time from the Baltimore & Ohio station at Twenty-fourth and Chestnut streets.

Warning to the Russian Press.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 8.—The press censor has instructed the newspapers not to publish anything tending to encourage the illusion that the government is meditating reforms of a liberal character in its administrative regime.

Settlers on the Alert.

Milwaukee, Wis., Feb. 8.—Sheriff Stanley has refused to accede to a request made by an attorney for the Illinois Steel company to evict the residents on Jones' Island. The island is virtually a bivouac in which 700 squatters are lying on their arms. It is rumored the Illinois Steel company will give up the attempt to evict the squatters.

Y. M. C. A 310 STRONG AND GROWING FAST

THERE ARE 230 ON THE MEN'S LIST.

Business Men Take an Active Interest in the Organization and Have Done Much to Help it Along—Names of the Members Who are Enrolled.

The growth of the Y. M. C. A. in Janesville since the new building was opened, has been phenomenal. Attention was called to the growth when The Gazette announced that sixty-nine new members had been voted in at one meeting of the board of directors.

Interest is shown in every way. The gymnasium classes are full and business men are especially enthusiastic, etc. Every Tuesday and Friday afternoon the business men's class keep Director Keesler very busy. Half an hour of training, half an hour of basket ball, then a shower bath and a brisk rub sends the members home with appetties like hired men's.

As the Y. M. C. A. list stands today the members number 230 and are as follows:

J C. Babcock of Milton, the lodge deputy, conducted the installation, speeches followed by the newly installed officers and also from delegates who were in attendance from Milton.

BELOIT WHIST PLAYERS COMING.

They Will Try Conclusions With the Janesville Club Next Week.

Sixteen Beloit whist players will meet Janesville's best whist talent in this city next Thursday. George M. McKey, of the Whist club, has received a message from Cham. Ingersoll, of Beloit, saying that sixteen of their men would like to meet their Janesville brothers in a game of whist, so the deal was closed and the Line City boys will be here next Thursday. The Beloit club is composed of a number of "cracks" who have Cavendishe's laws and Foster's precepts at their tongue's end. They have played the celebrated Rockford team and have been wanting to meet the Janesville boys for some time. A committee is now at work selecting the local players.

HUMPHREY WON'T BE TRIED.

Evansville Burglary Case Settled Itself in Simple Fashion.

Lyle S. Humphrey will not appear for trial on the charge of burglary. When he pleaded not guilty he was released on his own recognizance and will be on the Pacific coast before the day set for the trial. If he ever comes back he will be prosecuted, but if he stays out west and lets his wife get a divorce he is not likely to be molested Humphrey declared that he meant no harm when he broke into Almeron Eager's house. Mrs. Humphrey was frightened greatly, however, and was the one to give the alarm.

BAPTISTS AT A MISSIONARY TEA

Annual Gathering Of the Ladies of the Janesville Church.

The annual meeting of the Woman's Missionary society of the Baptist church was held at the home of Mrs. Butler, and Mrs. Dr. Lane on North Bluff street yesterday afternoon. After devotional exercises the annual business was transacted, when the study of missions in India was taken up. Twenty-five ladies sat down to tea enjoying a pleasant social hour.

DOESN'T SKIN CALVES ALIVE.

Robert Baum Says He Isn't the Man to do Such Things.

Robert Baum comes to the front and wishes his friends to know that he hasn't the heart to skin a calf alive.

Mr. Baum lives on Sharon street, in the Third ward, and feared his friends might think he was the man who horrified his neighbors.

"Since I have quit the horse butchering business," remarked Mr. Baum, "I have been dressing a few calves, but I always make it a point to see that they are stone dead before applying the knife."

SUNDAY SUBJECTS IN LOCAL PULPITS

WHAT PASTORS WILL TALK ABOUT TOMORROW.

Christianity in Its Calvinistic Transformation to be Discussed by Rev. Victor E. Southworth Before the Culture Club—Topics of Discourse in Various Churches.

ALL SOULS, the People's Church—Sunday services as usual. Morning lecture by the pastor at 10:30. Subject, "John Calvin." At noon, the school for religious culture, the conversation class and the Emerson class, will meet. The Culture club lecture at 5 o'clock will be on "Presbyterianism, or Christianity in Its Calvinistic Transformation." Inasmuch as no local representative of this church would consent to speak upon the subject before the club, Mr. Southworth has here been compelled to undertake the task of making an impartial statement of Calvinism. The lecture will largely consist of readings from Calvin's Institutes and the "Westminister Confession" these being the principal sources of Presbyterian doctrine. On Monday evening at 7:30 the Culture club will hold a parlor social and card party at the Milton avenue home of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Wixom. All are invited.

Although the musicians, singers and speakers are home talent and from the ranks of the Young People's Society, the program will be a selected one and well worth hearing. Admission, free. Only a collection will be taken up for the benefit of the church. The program is as follows:

1. Music.....Dexim Mandolin Club
2. Address.....Fred Rentschler
3. Declamation.....Fred Broege
4. Song.....Choir
5. Declamation.....G. Abendroth
6. Song.....Trio

WENT TO JAIL OF HIS OWN WILL

John Sheridan Wants Three Hours in a Cell, as a Bracer.

"Can I go down to jail for three or four hours?" said John Sheridan to Chief Acheson earnestly.

There was a hint of exhilaration about him.

"Are you in earnest?" said Acheson.

"Yes, an' I hain't got any time to lose. I've got more whisky in me than I ought to have, an' I want about three hours in jail as a bracer."

He was allowed to go down and apply for admission.

"If the boys were all like that," said Chief Acheson, "a police force would be useless."

HORSE REPORTER AT A REVIVAL

He Thinks the Evangelist's Pace Is a Hot One and Hard to Maintain.

They sent the Journal horse reporter to a revival meeting in Watertown and these are some of his comments on evangelists work.

"Can he hold out? Can he keep up this pace? Will the rest be as good as this one? These and similar questions, the Times reporter asked himself many times, while listening to Rev. J. B. Koehne's lecture last night on "Paganism Before Christ."

"It will be impossible to give a full report of last night's lecture, simply because it is impossible to describe a "cyclone." If he can hold out as he began, and it looks as if he can, he will draw and hold a crowded house. The pace last night was a fast one for both speaker and audience, but doubtless it was none too fast for Mr. Koehne. The Times misses its guess if this course of lectures on the "Reasonableness of Christianity" does not pan out one of the best courses ever given in Watertown. A full house will be in order at the Congregational church tonight."

MOVEMENTS OF LEAF BUYERS.

L. B. Carle and John Decker Are Buying Fillers in Considerable Quantities.

According to the Leaf, about half a dozen Janesville dealers are nibbling away at the '95 tobacco but need something to develop their appetite, as but few crops are picked up and these at prices ranging from three to five cents. L. B. Carle and J. A. Decker seem to be trying to corner the '92 filler crop and are getting it by the ton.

Among the sales of old leaf reported are: 67 cases '93 sold by Geo. H. Rumrill, 50 cases '94 sold by F. S. Baines to Frank Pulver, of New York; 25 cases '92 and '94 bought by A. N. Jones. S. B. Heddles sold 15 cases old leaf. Sales from first hands are as follows:

J. Peterson 1a '94 at 3 and 1c.
A. R. Peterson 3a '94 at 5 and 1c.

ART LEAGUE GETS TWO PANELS

L. H. Towne Adds Some of Miss Nellie Mear's Work to the Collection.

L. H. Towne, proprietor of the Edgerton pottery has presented the Janesville Art League with two beautiful bits of Miss Nellie Mears' work—"The Morning Wind" and "The Night Wind." They are circular panels done in half relief and are thoroughly sympathetic interpretations of beautiful ideals. The breezy freshness of "The Morning Wind" especially is felt instantly.

Miss Mears, who is remembered for her Wisconsin statute at the World's fair has done considerable work for the Edgerton pottery, but none better than these two. She now is on her way to Paris to work for a year or two in some of the French studios.

SYRIANS LEAVING JANESVILLE

Times Are Hard and the Peddling Business Is Unprofitable.

On account of poor business, several of the Janesville Syrians are leaving for different parts of the west. The third family, that of Charles Reys, started this morning for Phoenix, Arizona.

"It is hard for us to make a living now with the high license for peddling," remarked one of the Syrian colony, "and we will all have to move later on."

DR. GREENE'S NERVURA

Physicians Urgently Advise Use of Dr. Greene's Nervura

Well Known Physicians Enthusiastic in Their Statements of the Wonderful Curative Powers of Dr Greene's Nervura.

DR. JOB SWEET.

One of the most noted physicians and surgeons is Dr. Job Sweet, of New Bedford, Mass. He makes the public statement that he has often recommended the use of Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy to his patients who have been suffering from nervous troubles and he has learned that in a large number of these cases it has proven efficacious.

Dr. Willard H. Morse, F. B. S. Sc., of Westfield, N. J., the great expert on medicines, says of this grand discovery of Dr. Greene:—

"The true remedy for nervous diseases is Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. It acts by affecting the organs of nutrition, and entering into the formation of new nerve tissue, which generates nerve force. This means the making of new nerves."

The well known Dr. Emil Neumer, superintending physician of the N. Y. Lodge and Association Hospital says:

"We are using Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy at this hospital for our patients with good success."

Dr. B. D. Rickford, of Wolcott, Vt., states:

"I have used Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy for some time, first trying it on myself, and I found it did me so much good that I now recommend it to my patients. The fact that I have used it in my own case shows that I know what I am talking about. As a tonic and invigorant it is the best of all to build up a person."

Dr. Robert W. Lance, of So. Woodbury, Vt., says:—

"I have known about Dr. Greene's Nervura blood any nerve remedy and the good results in cases, as a tonic, after hard sickness and the cure of nervous females. They have received great good from its use. I do not hesitate to recommend it.

Dr. C. W. Cook, of Carmel, Ind., says:

"I have used Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy for my patients and have found the remedy all that was claimed for it. The results have been entirely satisfactory. I think it is worthy and I recommend its use."

Such enthusiastic endorsements by physicians stamps this remarkable medical discovery as the greatest restorer of health and strength. It certainly cures more cases of disease than any other known remedy. It makes all who take it strong and well. It is the prescription and discovery of a well-known physician, Dr. Greene, of 35 West 14th St., New York City, who can be consulted without charge, personally or by letter.

DEATH ENDS EARTHLY WOES

John Butler.

John Butler, who died in Edgerton, Feb. 4, was born in Witchford, Cambridgeshire, England, April 4, 1808. He came to the state of New York in April, 1842, and to Wisconsin in May 1854, since which time he has been a resident of Rock County most of the time in the vicinity of Clinton. Mr. Butler is the father of six living children, Mrs. William Pye of Clinton, Wis., J. R. Butler, of Glencoe, Minn., Mrs. E. Best and Mrs. E. M. Griebeler of Gaston, Oregon, W. H. Butler of Edgerton, and J. F. Butler of Clinton. Besides the children he leaves nineteen grandchildren and sixteen great grandchildren. Notwithstanding his advanced age Mr. Butler had been quite active until a short time before his death. He was a great admirer of the Gazette. He had been a reader and a subscriber for it for forty years. He was buried from the Baptist church in Clinton, February 5, Rev. W. B. Stubbert, officiating. When the Union was threatened Mr. Butler's four sons—all he had—responded. Three of them were at his funeral.

Wife—Here's an account of a man who shot himself rather than suffer the pangs of indigestion. Husband—The fool! Why didn't he take De Witt's Little Early Risers? I used to suffer as bad as he did before I commenced taking those little pills. C. D. Stevens.

LECTURE COURSE IN MILTON.

President Whitford Supplies O. T. William's Place—A Bicycle Race.

Milton, Feb. 7—President Whitford stepped into the breach Tuesday night and lectured in place of Orren T. Williams, of Milwaukee. E. S. Bailey, M. D., of Hahnnemann Medical college, Chicago, will lecture on "The Public Services of Pasteur and His Contributions to Medical Science" next Tuesday. Chas. F. Tomkins is in town to spend a few weeks. He has sold his drug business at Merrill and after concluding his visit here will mount his wheel and make a tour of the south with a view to locating in that section. He thinks that region is destined to be a good place for business. A. C. Dunn, agent of the Union Pacific at Omaha, was called here this week by the dangerous illness of his father. The reverend gentleman is still in a critical condition, but as he eats and sleeps well and is in good spirits his friends hope for recovery. Robert Bacon, of Escanaba, Mich., is visiting Milton relatives. Fred Bond, who is a disciple of Blackstone with a shingle out at Fonda, Iowa, is spending the week in town. Milton was well represented at the Sousa Concert in Madison, by Misses Jessie Birdie, and Matie Mendenhall, Mrs. R. J. Wheeler, Mrs. Alice S. Blount and Messrs. Ed Babcock and Dwight Clark. Superintendent Throne was in town Wednesday to attend the Dennett funeral. D. C. Burdick of Janesville was in town Wednesday. Mr. Porter, late of Charles City, Iowa, is now night operator at this station, Mr. Flannery going elsewhere. Lieutenant Warren of Albany, did business here this week.

DEATH OF A CLINTON PIONEER

Hiram T. B. Earle Passes Away in His Eighty-Second Year.

Clinton, Feb. 7—H. T. B. Earle, for years a resident of Clinton, died at Vermillion, S. D., at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Lucy Wildman. He was in his eighty-second year. Mr. Earle was born in the state of New York, Jan. 31, 1813. On Sept. 5, 1833 he married Rebecca Swansbrogh, who died March 20, 1890. Since the death of his wife he has lived with his son, G. W. Earle of this village. In the year 1856 he came to Wisconsin and had been a resident of Clinton and vicinity up to Oct. 16, 1895, when he went to Vermillion, S. D., to visit his daughters, Mrs. H. H. Richardson and Mrs. W. H. Wildman, and was in the best of health until January last, when he was stricken down with a stroke of apoplexy, from which he never rallied. His remains were shipped here on January 31, and were laid beside those of his wife. Mr. Earle was a member of the Baptist church, from which church the funeral services were held, Rev. W. B. Stubbert preaching the funeral sermon. The Jenny Lind concert, which was held at the Baptist church on Tuesday evening last, was largely attended, and enjoyed by all present. The Janesville Y. M. C. A. band of sixteen pieces, will give a concert at the Baptist church Monday evening, February 10, proceeds to go to Clinton Y. M. C. A. All are cordially invited to attend. Dan. Shimeal, of Chicago, called on Clinton friends the first of the week. Frank Crosier is on the sick list. J. Miller went to Milwaukee on Tuesday last. A. V. Peters has sold his lumber interest to Bush Hawks. W. A. McCommons and wife returned home from Chicago Wednesday evening last. The donation held at the Baptist church on Thursday evening last, for the benefit of the pastor, Rev. W. B. Stubbert, was largely attended, and the large crowd extended the warmest of greeting to the pastor and his family. The proceeds were a little over one hundred dollars. Judson Barker was called to Lawrence, Kansas, by the sudden death of his brother's wife, Mrs. George J. Barker.

BRIEF JOHNSTOWN JOTTINGS.

Funeral of Mrs. Zella Kerr—Orange Tree Bearing Fruit.

Johnstown Center—Feb. 7—The funeral of the late Mrs. Kerr was held from the home of her son-in-law, Thomas McDowell, Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. S. G. Huey was officiating clergyman. She leaves several children and a large cirle of friends to mourn her loss. Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Forrest are rejoicing over the safe arrival of a five pound girl. Jane Randall, who has been laid up with a sprained wrist for some weeks past, is slowly recovering. Freeman Akin, of Delavan, was seen on our streets the first of the week. Mrs. Cora E. Dickinson, of North Johnstown, has an orange tree which contains three ripe oranges. To those who have never visited the orange groves of Florida, this tree would be quite a sight M. H. Morse and wife called on relatives and friends in town last Sunday. Miss Ethel Hall is recovering from a severe cold. John Haight and brother were visiting in town the first of the week.

Cycling Chaperonage Is the Latest.

A new occupation is looming up on the impecunious woman's horizon. It is a significant fact that in England mothers who advertise for governesses require a knowledge, upon the instructress' part, of cycling, in order that she may accompany her young charges when they go a-wheeling. It seems likely that a new employment may open up for women in the form of cycling chaperonage.

THIS DAY IN HISTORY.

1725—Peter the Great, Russian reformer and ideal monarch, died; born 1672. Peter I of Russia founded St. Petersburg.

1820—William Tecumseh Sherman, soldier, born in Lancaster, O.; died 1890.

1877—Admiral Charles Wilkes of steamer Trent and San Jacinto fame died in Washington; born 1798. The Trent affair formed one of the most exciting international episodes of the war. While in command of the sloop San Jacinto, Captain Wilkes overhauled the British steamer Trent on the high seas and seized two Confederate envoys, bringing them to a Union port. The prisoners were subsequently restored to an English vessel.

1894—Colonel John R. Baylor, a noted Texan pioneer and Indian fighter, also an officer of the Confederate states, died near San Antonio; born 1822.

Rock County Republican Convention

A Republican County Convention is hereby called at the court house, in the city of Janesville on Friday, March 13, 1896, at 2 p. m., for the purpose of electing delegates to the state convention, to be held in Milwaukee, March 18, 1896.

This Rock county convention will elect delegates also to the congressional district convention when called, and transact such other business as proper for this convention.

The different towns and wards of Rock county will be entitled to delegates as follows: Towns of Avon, Beloit, Bradford, Harmony, Janesville, Johnstown, La Prairie, Porter, two each; Center, Clinton, Lima, Magnolia, Plymouth, Porter, Turtle, Union, Clinton village, Fifth ward of Janesville, three each; Fulton, Newark, Spring Valley, First ward city of Beloit, Edgerton, four each; Second ward city of Beloit, Second and Fourth wards city of Janesville, five each; Evansville, Third and Fourth wards city of Beloit, six each; First and Third wards city of Janesville, seven each; Milton, eight. By order County Republican Committee.

W. T. VANKIRK, Chairman.

Dated Janesville, Feb. 7, 1896.

AN INDIRECT ROAD TAX.

Rock county pays heavily for her mud roads. She pays a fair price in the first place for having them scraped up into hummocks every spring by road gangs. She pays more—very much more—in the cost of marketing farm produce.

Every manufacturer knows he must cut cartage and freight bills to the lowest point if he is to meet competition. If $2 can be saved on $100 worth of goods it is just as much a profit as if he saved it by improved methods in the work shop.

The same is true with farmers. The farmer who can deliver two tons of hay with one team of horses can sell his hay cheaper than the man who needs four horses and two drivers for the job. The farmer who makes two trips to town with a lot of grain that should have been hauled in one load is paying a road tax of the most oppressive sort.

This indirect road tax is the sort too many farmers forget when town-meeting time draws near. The one mill tax for gravel looks bigger than the 5 per cent. tax for horse flesh and road improvements are voted down for another year. Such economy is the sheerest waste and the sooner Rock County realizes it the sooner her farms will grow in value.

Is Mr. Cleveland afraid to declare himself, either for or against the Nicaragua canal? That's the way it looks. He had the report made by the engineer comm[illegible] vestigated the canal in his hands, since last fall, but he hasn't sent it to congress. The subcommittee of the house committee on commerce got tired waiting for that report and have started upon the preparation of a Nicaragua canal bill.

Mr. Cleveland is now sorry he did not make the bond issue larger. The number of bids submitted convinced him that, whatever his own fears, engendered by gold brokers, may be, the people in this country have none regarding the ability of the United States to meet its obligations. The people know that the republican party will be in charge again next year.

The young Duke of Marlborough has recently invested $750,000 of his easily acquired American money in London real estate. Wonder if he will claim that this, like the money expended for repairs on Marlborough House, came out of the income of his family estate.

Misfortunes are catching. The troubles the ship of state have had ever since pilot Cleveland went aboard are being duplicated by the ocean steamships.

President Crespo, of Venezuela, has shown by imposing a fine on an English railroad that he isn't disposed to conciliate Mr. John Bull even a little bit.

Mr. Borebgrevink is beginning his attempt to reach the South Pole in much the same way that the arctic explorers always do—with a lecture tour.

American yatchsmen should accept nothing else from Dunraven; not even an apology.

A Leader.

We don't expect to make a great deal of money on our $2.50 ladies special shoe, it's more for a leader as we have said before. More medium priced shoes are sold than any other, so we had patterns made for a shoe with high grade points in it at the popular price. Don't fail to see the $2.50 special. Richardson Shoe Co.

THREE MORE IN ROYAL PURPLE

Odd Fellows of Rock River Encampment Take in a Trio of Candidates.

Two from Janesville and one from Whitewater ere given the Royal Purple degree by Rock River Encampment No. 3, I. O. O. F., last night. After the degree had been conferred, the entire party, about sixty in all, proceeded to the dining room, where a delicious supper was served. Among those present from other cities were Oscar Smith, grand high priest; C. G Barnes, W. S. Robinson, Lew. Carpenter, E. M. Towl, J. McCauley, William Hucker, Burke Webb, of Whitewater; and Ira Whitehead, of Delavan.

HE WANTED NO WIFE TO BOTHER ABOUT

MARTIN HOLM SICK BUT VERY SPUNKY.

Superintendent Kenyon Went Out to Reason With Him But Finally Took Him to the County House For Treotment—Would Have Died From Exposure.

Martin Holm, who was reported to Superintendent Kenyon as having beaten his wife is in the poor house. He was found in a little house in Spring Valley very sick and with nobody to care for him. The neighbors thought he had consumption and were afraid he would die.

"I don't think it is consumption;" said Superintendent Kenyon. "It looks more like a broncnial trouble but he in in very bad shape."

Can't Be Sure of Results

The case illustrates the uncertainty of legal proceedings. An elderly farmer and his daughter came to see Superintendent Kenyon a few days ago and wanted Holm called to account.

"He is married to my daughter but doesn't support her," the farmer declared.

"He hits me with a club whenever I go in the house," said the daughter tearfully.

Superintendent Kenyon went out to see if these facts were true. Holm was found in a little house where he had been "batching it." He was almost helpless from lung trouble and seemed likely to die of exposure.

Superintendent Kenyon tried to reason with him.

"Why don't you treat your wife right and then she would take care of you?" he said.

"I ain't got any wife and I'm too smart to get one. 'Batching it is good enough for me,'" said Holm between coughing spasms.

"Why did you beat your wife with a club?"

"She isn't my wife, and I didn't use a club—just used my fists to make her keep away."

PARKER AND BORT OUT OF THE BANK

BELOIT SECOND NATIONAL IN OTHER HANDS.

Michigan Capital Replaces Beloit Money in the Well Known Line City Institution—Former Cashier Takes a Well Paid Position as President of an Insurance Company.

At a meeting of the Second National Bank, of Beloit, L. H. Parker, the cashier, was elected president in place of A. N. Bort, resigned. B. P. Eldred was elected cashier, and A. J. Dearborn, assistant cashier. The latter comes from Muskegon, Michigan.

The change represents the practical retirement of Mr. Parker and Mr. Bort. Mr. Dearborn buys the controlling interest in the bank and Mr. Parker is said to retain only a small portion of the stock. Although he is president he will devote no time to the affairs of the bank, having been made president of a Chicago insurance company at a salary of $10,000 a year.

Mr. Bort has never devoted any time to the affairs of the bank, and did not hold a large interest.

UNDER THE DAISIES.

I've just been learning the lesson of life,
The sad, sad lesson of loving,
And all of its powers for pleasure or pain
Been slowly and sadly proving,
And all that's left of the bright, bright dream,
With its thousand brilliant phases,
Is a handful of dust in a coffin hid,
A coffin under the daisies,
The beautiful, beautiful daisies.

And thus forever throughout this wide world
Is love a sorrow proving;
There are still many sorrowful things in life,
But the saddest of all is loving.
The life of some is worse than death,
For fate a high wall oft raises,
And far better than life with two hearts estranged
Is a low grave starr'd with daisies,
The beautiful, beautiful daisies.
—Harrison Millard in Philadelphia Times.

HER MOTHER-IN-LAW

Ned Chatterton was a good deal of a mother's boy—that is to say, such a warm affection existed between mother and son that it was remarkable in this day of filial laxity.

So when it became known that Adelaide Westcott was engaged to him, her many friends grew solicitous in warning her as to the course she should pursue in regard to her future mother-in-law.

"When a mother has always had such complete ascendency over a son, it is always a hard matter to make her recognize a wife's right, and if this is to be done, positive measures must be employed from the first." So her friends said, and her own mother gave her some good advice in the same line, while her sister Nell deplored the necessity of having mothers-in-law and reviewed all the traditions in regard to those very undesirable personages.

With so much instruction Adelaide became also imbued with very positive notions on the subject. Of course, he was an only son and his mother a widow, but she could never consent to live in the same house with the elder woman. If all was to go well, she was to begin right. Of course, Ned loved his mother, but matrimony would put him under new obligations. At her first opportunity she explained it all to him and insisted that they should keep a separate establishment.

Ned looked pained, but he said:

"I shall do as you say in the matter, Adelaide, though I had looked forward to a very happy companionship between you and my little mother. She is not hard to get along with, I know, and she could have helped you so much with her advice and counsel in the household affairs."

But Adelaide showed him how a mother-in-law, by her very love and preference for her son, might cause dissension between husband and wife.

Perhaps he was not convinced, but he yielded the point and they were married. All of Adelaide's friends congratulated her upon her good sense, and behind his back praised Ned for his consideration in sparing his wife the presence of a mother-in-law. But he gave himself the satisfaction of setting up housekeeping within a block of the mother he loved.

Sometimes at night, when he and Adelaide sat lonely by the fire, he thought of his mother and wished that she might be with them, but on the whole they were happy and no morbid thoughts entered his brain, for he believed that in time Adelaide's own good sense would triumph over the prejudices aroused by officious friends. But this was his mother's wisdom.

There were times when the elder Mrs. Chatterton wept a little that she was denied the daily vision of her son's joy, but she said nothing and kept her tears to herself. Ned was very faithful and dutiful, but she did not go often to the house, because her presence always seemed to put Adelaide in a mood of defense almost bordering on aggression. The young woman meant to be understood, and plainly understood, that she would tolerate the interference in her affairs of no mother-in-law.

And so the months passed.

In the first glow of connubial joy Ned had neglected his club, but as time went on and the household began to move in the accustomed routine he began occasionally to drop in and spend a social hour with his man friends. At first it was but once in two or three weeks and only an hour or two then. Then he went more frequently and staid later.

Some evenings Adelaide was very lonesome, and after awhile, when he staid late, would cry to herself, but she always tried to welcome his return with an unclouded face. She believed that it was only thoughtlessness, and that after awhile, when he came to realize how very lonely she was, he would not stay away from her so long.

But he did not seem to realize.

Once, when she was very lonesome, Mrs. Chatterton came in and sat with her. They talked together and busied themselves with some needlework, and the hours did not seem so long. And when Ned came that night they walked home with his mother and all were light hearted and happy.

But other evenings passed when nobody came in, or when her mother or Nell dropped in to find her alone, and hinted that Ned was neglecting her. They would look at her strangely, as if they pitied her, and wondered if she were happy. Somehow this pained her. Ned was good. She loved him and knew that he loved her; he was only thoughtless. She said this over and over to herself, and she could not bear to see in the eyes of her relatives the look that accused him.

One night when he had been later than usual and when her heart was overfull she tried to tell him how he was paining her, but broke down and burst into tears.

His face was flushed and he answered her impatiently:

"Nonsense, Addy; don't act like a baby; you must remember that you are a woman. You oughtn't to expect a man to stick in the house all the time."

It wasn't so much what he said, but the tone in which he said it, that hurt her and made her sob silently until she fell asleep.

There was something restrained and shamefaced in his manner as he kissed her goodby the next morning and went down town, but in the evening he returned early, and after dinner he did not go out. He was restless and nervous and didn't seem to be reading the paper which he held up before him. Between husband and wife there was an embarrassing silence. There seemed to be no common theme for them to talk about. They retired early, and again Adelaide's pillow was wet with tears.

It is a very easy matter to tell when a man stays in the house out of a sense of duty. That is what Ned did for several nights, but it brought Adelaide no happiness and him no comfort.

Her heart was overfull and she wanted sympathy and counsel. To whom should she turn? Would not her father tell her that she was foolish? Would not her mother be angry and blame Ned? Would not Nell pity her? No; she could not go to none of these. Then suddenly she thought of Mrs. Chatterton. She understood Ned. She loved him. Would she not also understand the situation and be able to advise her? When she had gained courage enough, she went down to her mother-in-law's and sobbed out the whole story to her. The old lady took her in her arms as she would have a tired child.

"You poor, little girl," she said. "Ned has been very bad to you, and You didn't know how to manage him. How should you? But be patient; we shall bring the young man around all right." Mrs. Chatterton bent down and kissed the girl, who lay sobbing in her arms, and hope sprang up in the young wife's heart.

It was a matter of some doubt whether Ned was more pleased or surprised when, on the following night, Adelaide said to him:

"Would you mind going to the club tonight, Ned? Mother and I are going out for a little while, and I am afraid you will be lonesome."

"Certainly not," he replied, "but I thought your mother was out of the city."

"I mean Mother Chatterton—your mother," she said, faltering and blushing.

"Oh," he said tenderly, and he was slow in getting his hat, and he kissed her twice before going out.

He came home early that evening, and his mother was just about to leave as he entered. She paused only long enough to say: "I'll be over tomorrow evening. Mr. and Mrs. Delaney are coming with the hope of beating you and Addy a few games of cards. I'll have to come and make a welsh rabbit for you, I suppose."

"That will be just the thing," said Ned. "I'll show Tom Delaney whether he can beat us at cards or not. Do come, mother. Wait a minute, and Addy and I will walk home with you. Won't we, dear?" But his wife was already throwing on her cape.

Next night Mr. and Mrs. Delaney came and Ned and Adelaide were beaten, but Mrs. Chatterton made the Welsh rabbit—she had never made a better one—and there were jokes and stories and bright conversation all through the short evening.

Delaney proposed that the three Chattertons come over to his house on the next evening and get their revenge, and they went. There were more jokes and bright talk, and, best of all, this time Ned won.

"How pleasant these evenings are," he said to Adelaide, as with her on one arm and his mother on the other he wended his homeward way, "and how foolish I have been to have been wasting them at the club. We must keep them up, eh, little girl?" They were just at Mrs. Chatterton's gate, but Adelaide put her hand on the old lady's arm. "You are going home with us to spend the night," she said.

"And there is to be no demur, little mother," added Ned, sweeping her on past the gate. She could not but consent.

Far into the night, after Mrs. Chatterton had gone to bed, Ned and Adelaide talked. They made plans for future pleasure, and their youthful joy seemed the revival of the honeymoon enthusiasm.

"We shall have such glorious times," said Ned. "Mother is right here near us."

"She must be nearer, Ned," said Adelaide. "I want her to live right here with us."

"But, Adelaide"—

"Ned, I desire it. Don't say no. I've got over some foolish notions of mine and I just begin to find how much I need a mother-in-law."

Her friends say: "It is strange that after starting out so well she would let him bring that mother-in-law in on her, but I suppose he compelled her; that's the way with men."—St. Louis Republic.

Captive Wild Animals.

"It is a curious thing how animals are affected by conditions which one would think were immaterial," said Chief Keeper Manley of the zoological garden. "Take an American wildcat, for example. If we put one of these animals into a large cage where it can jump about and have comparative freedom, it will sicken and die of heart disease, whereas if we pen them up in a little cage where they can hardly turn around, they will live and be healthy. It is something that is hard to account for. Almost all the American animals are hard to keep. We can't keep a moose here, and we have to be very careful with mountain sheep."—Philadelphia Record.

Well Enough Informed.

"You," said the disgusted gambler, "don't know enough to come in when it rains."

"Perhaps not," said the man who had been there with a wan smile, "but I do know enough to stay out on a pat flush."—Indianapolis Journal.

Another Brute.

Mrs. Winks—Did you see this article by Labouchere on English and American women?

Mr. Winks—No. What does it say?

"It says English women do not know how to dress."

"Maybe not."

"But American women have a natural taste for clothes."

"That's so—and not much else, some of 'em."—N. Y. Weekly.

A Misleading Report.

Miss Dimling—I hear that you are to be married soon, dear.

Miss Gasket—I can't imagine how such a report got out.

Miss D.—But you surely are engaged.

Miss G.—O, yes; but going to be married, no. Not for a long time yet. Why, this is only my sixth engagement. —To Date.

Tempus Fugit.

Why time glides so swiftly

A DUBIOUS COMPLIMENT.

Snodgrass—This horse of mine is almost as smart as I am.

Cumso—And yet people say that the horse is an intelligent animal. — To Date.

Her Idea.

Mrs. Goodkind (laying down her newspaper)—My sakes! Those people out in Oklahoma must be a filthy set!

Mr. Goodkind—Ll'm, what makes you think so?

Mrs. Goodkind—Why, I have just been reading of their lynching a man in Rocky City for trying to clean out the town.—Puck.

Good Place to Shop.

Mrs. Longdebt—I believe I'll run around to that new drug store and buy some toilet articles and things.

Mr. Longdebt—I haven't any money.

"Oh, they'll give me trust. I heard the proprietor tell his clerk to charge a soda fountain."—N. Y. Weekly.

Just a Grain.

First Boarder—Please pass the salt.

Second Boarder—Salt shouldn't be taken with this course.

First Boarder—I know it. I'm not taking it with this course; I'm taking it with your last remark.—Town Topics.

Old Habits Strong.

"Isn't this rather too generous?" said the clergyman, looking at the $20 gold piece in his hand.

"It's what I always pay," loftily replied the Sioux Falls man who had just been married.—Chicago Tribune.

A Predicament.

"She's to let me know at the end of a week if she would accept me."

"It must be a terrible suspense."

"Rather! I don't know whether to break off my other engagements or not."—Life.

The Other Way Round.

"I suppose," he said, "you are pretty good in getting round the men?"

"No," replied the girl, as she glanced at her sylph-like waist in the glass. "But the men are pretty good in getting round me."—Bay City Chat.

Of Course.

"Look here, Hopkins, you said you were going to New York on legal business, and you went and got married."

"Well, isn't getting married legal business?"—Chicago Record.

Demoralizing Pleasures.

"Hobbs, your little boy is getting horribly rough."

"Yes, I must stop his going around with his mother on bargain days."—Chicago Record.

No Chance for It.

Parrott—I hear that young Gosling married in haste; I hope he'll not repent at leisure.

Wiggins—My dear fellow, he has no money to afford leisure!—N. Y. World.

An Unkind Remark.

She—I went to the dentist and had a tooth pulled this morning.

He—You did, eh? Happy tooth! It at least is beyond the reach of your tongue.—Dallas (Tex.) Sifter.

Explanatory.

The Wife—That's a good cigar you are smoking, John.

The Husband—Yes. It's out of a box you gave me before we were married.—Town Topics.

Her Kind.

Clerk—You can turn this lamp ever so high and it won't smoke.

She—I want a lamp that won't smoke if you turn it ever so low.—Puck.

Only Fit for the Kingdom.

Mrs. Dash—Is Mrs. Crash in good society?

Mrs. Rash—Oh, no!—she's just one of my church acquaintances.—Puck.

His Only Refuge.

"What do you do when you go home late at night and find your wife sitting up waiting for you?"

"Wish I hadn't gone home."—Truth.

They Agreed.

Beggar—Beg pardon, sir, but I have seen better days than this.

Passer-by—So have I. The weather is horrid.—N. Y. World.

Coal Vessel-Loading Machines.

Machines for transferring coal from cars to vessels more rapidly than can be done by any of the old processes are now receiving a great deal of attention at Lake Erie ports and three new machines are soon to be put in operation at Cleveland.

One of these is for the Erie Coal Transfer company and is on the New York, Pennsylvania & Ohio dock. This will probably be completed within a week or two. The loaded car is run into a large cylinder, where it is securely fastened, and the cylinder is then rolled up an inclined plane, stopping in the right position to let the coal fall out of the car by gravity.

The machine that is being built on the Cleveland & Pittsburg dock consists of a cradle in which a loaded car is placed and then swung on a trunnion, tipping the car sufficiently to pour out its contents. The coal falls through six hoppers into six buckets, which are then conveyed to the hold of the vessel. A third machine, differing from the other two, is to be built on the Cuddy-Mullen dock. It is said that the company has orders to build similar machines at Toledo, Huron and Ashtabula. At the latter place there is one of the McMyler machines, which was built last year. All of these machines are for unloading cars which have no hoppers in their bottoms.—The Iron Age.

Rubber Tires on Carriages.

The number of rubber tires in use on carriages appears to be all the time increasing. Oftener and oftener now uptown, especially at night, when carriages largely predominate and the sound of them is not blended as it may be by day with the sound of many other vehicles, you hear the clatter of horses' hoofs, but not the old-time accompanying rattle of wheels. The cab or carriage has rubber tires. I am not so sure that I like this. I always did like the sound of a well built carriage, with everything about it keyed up snugly; no rattling or play anywhere, but with everything fitting nicely, and the carriage running easily and smoothly. The wheels of such a vehicle make music on the street pavement. I think I like that sound better than I do the noiselessness of the rubber tires.

Peers as Municipal Officers.

The Earl of Warwick is the only English peer who is at present a mayor, his lordship having been elected to the mayoral dignity by the Warwick town council last Michaelmas; but at the ensuing elections no fewer than five noblemen will be elected mayors, the peers to be thus distinguished including two dukes, one of whom is also a cabinet minister. In each instance the choice of the corporations has fallen upon gentlemen with large financial interests in the towns of which they are to be mayors. The following is a list of the peers in question and the towns over whose council they are to preside: The duke of Norfolk, Sheffield; the duke of Sutherland, Longton; Lord Windsor, Cardiff; Lord Dudley, Dudley; Lord Derby, Preston.

Only Citizens Need Apply.

Lansing, Mich., Feb. 7.—Land Commissioner French has made a ruling to the effect that only citizens of the United States can profit by a recent act of the legislature setting aside for homestead purposes lands which had for three successive years been forfeited to the state for unpaid taxes.

The Protection Policy Applied to a Great Janesville Clothing House....

Boiled down, this is it---to create the greatest value for the least money. It's easy to sell at the average price. We're doing a great deal better now than selling $10.00 Suits for $10.00. We are selling what have been known as ten and twelve dollar suits for many a day for $6.00 and $7.50. You'll be told it can't be. All we say is: There's a host of people who have had them and selling a dozen to twenty a day is a common occurence even during these dull days.

The Best Speech Makers and Advertisements We Have Today are the Satisfied Wearers of These...

Bring 'em back if they are not satisfactory. THAT'S OUR PROTECTION TO YOU. Bring 'em back for your money. Our best $18, $20 and $25 Suits and Overcoats at exact cost to us if you want them. The season is advancing but it would seem it would pay you to buy a heavy Suit or Overcoat and lay it aside for next winter. Don't be tempted to buy poor clothes, You are easily fooled if you do. What is there about poor stuff that you like so much? You can see with your own eyes the such clothes don't fit. You can feel with your own hands that they're made of base material. Is it that price? They are more expensive than good clothes. The only thing we can think of is that you buy poor clothes just to be stubborn and nothing else.

The "MIDDLESEX" Sox go now at 10 cents per pair.

Good Laundered or Unlaundered Shirts at 37 cents.
